

PUNAHOU'S HISTORY GRAPHICALLY TOLD IN PICTURESQUE PAGEANT

dents know it as Punahou, "the new spring," and the two names doubtless will be associated as long as its work goes on. Events prior to its organization, how it was finally founded and the part it has played in the history of Hawaii are being clearly demonstrated this afternoon in a colorful pageant which was expected to draw thousands to Alexander field.

The big pageant, undoubtedly the most elaborate spectacle of its kind ever undertaken by any educational institution in the United States, is being staged at the Walkiki end of Alexander field, where stages have been erected for the performance, as well as comfortable bleachers, chairs and boxes for the enormous gathering of spectators. Three separate stages, with a background of mountains and foliage, are being used for the main actions of the pageant, while at the left is the E-shaped structure representing the old adobe building which was the original Punahou. In front of the "center" platform is Kapunahou, or the new spring, about which many legends of Punahou have centered during the last 75 years.

The outstanding feature of the pageant, aside from the clever work of the several hundred participants who had rehearsed for weeks to make their parts perfect, is the costumes, a detail which lends to the spectacle its striking degree of realism. Costumes of nearly a score of historic periods, some dating as far back as the time prior to the coming of the pioneer missionaries in 1820, are being shown, all in vivid color and forming an ever-changing kaleidoscope as the participants pass in and out.

With the period of the arrival of the missionaries the costumes change, bringing out the more conventional garb of those religious workers who accomplished so much for the general betterment of the islands. Down still further come the first trustees of Punahou and later their children, and finally events of the present day.

The pageant is opened with an academic procession in which march the president of the school, the trustees, distinguished guests, the faculty of Punahou and a group of graduates from various local schools and colleges. Leading the procession is the Hawaiian band.

Musio is furnished throughout the various episodes by the Punahou orchestra.

ASSEMBLING: The plans for the pageant provide that the students of the academy and the preparatory department are to assemble in their dressing rooms this afternoon at a quarter past 3 o'clock, to don their costumes.

Kapunahou, and with the Kapunahou lands; the period of quiet growth, including the founding and early years through the 80's, and finally the last 25 years of rapid expansion.

This historical pageant accordingly follows the same general trend, grouping itself into corresponding periods. To unify the three a prolog is used, somewhat in the manner of the Greek chorus of ancient times to introduce each of the three parts, to explain, to recall, to prophesy—in a word, to weld all the apparently separate contributions into one coherent whole.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

GERMAN HEADQUARTERS, June 20.—West front: General situation is unchanged. Patrol engagements were successful for the Germans near Beauvignes and in Niederaspach. Our flyers heavily bombarded the military establishments of Bergen, near Duenkirchen, and in Souilly, southwest of Verdun. On east, Hindenburg's German detachments, which advanced south of Smorgon beyond Cary and near Tancoya, brought in one officer, 143 men, four machine guns and four mine throwers. A Russian biplane was forced to land and was destroyed by artillery fire west of Kolodn. Railroad tracks in Vileyka were bombed.

Prince Leopold's army flyers again attacked railroads in Lyschovist and Luniniec. Strong Russian attacks against canal positions held by Linagons army southwest of Logoshin, broke down under curtain fire with heavy losses. Repeated enemy efforts against the Styrl line near and west of Kolki were generally without success. There are especially violent combats near Gruliatyn.

German troops broke the Russian resistance with especially bitter losses near Kissele, and in several places between the road. In Kovel, Luck and Turya we continue to advance. South of Turya the enemy's attacks were repulsed. The Russians' advance was stopped in the direction toward Gerochow. Gen. Bothmer's army situation is unchanged.

In Balkans, enemy's flyers dropped bombs upon villages behind our front. No damage done.

German Admiralty Report.

The German admiralty reports that on June 13 a German naval aeroplane in Rigabay, off Frunburg, bombarded two Russian destroyers, one being hit.

COLLECTING RENT ON ANOTHER'S PROPERTY.
CHARGE AGAINST AKI

Sentence was deferred in police court this morning in the case of Akoni Aki, said to be out on parole from the reform school, who was accused of gross cheat.

The police say Aki went through Frank Santos' tenement house on Buckle lane last Saturday and collected Santos' rent by telling that Santos was sick and had sent him for the money.

Aki admitted this. He said he was 20 years old.

LIQUOR LICENSE COMMISSION TO FACE SURPRISES

Anti-Saloon League to Protest Against Tavern and Late Liquor Selling

Unexpected fireworks, specially prepared by the Anti-Saloon League, will be exploded this afternoon at the annual meeting of the Oahu Liquor License Commission. What promised to be a peaceful meeting, absolutely devoid of sensations, now promises some unlooked for developments.

When the members are comfortably seated at 3:30, George W. Paty, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League, will request that the license for Heinie's Tavern be not renewed. He will strike again with a demand that special privileges to hotels and cafes to sell liquor after 11:30 p. m. be discontinued.

"Heinie's Tavern is operating illegally," said Paty this morning, "and I intend to prove this to the commission. The place is really no more than a road house and although I have no specific complaint to make against it, numerous objections have come to my office from residents on Walkiki beach and I think it should be closed."

Paty says the tavern is operated upon a petition that does not carry the names of a majority of property holders and lessees within 1000 feet of the tavern, as required by law.

The tavern at one time might have had sufficient signers on its petition, according to Paty, but many people have moved into that vicinity since who do not want the place there and will object strenuously to its continuance, says Paty.

Accompanying Paty's request that Heinie's be put out of business will be a petition to that effect, signed by about a dozen residents near the tavern. Paty says he can get many more if necessary.

Fights Special Privileges.

The matter of special privileges to sell after regular closing hours, Paty says, is one of the most objectionable features of the whole liquor selling regulation system in Honolulu and he intends to make a strong fight against such special privileges.

If the commission decides to curtail the privilege, such places as Heinie's, the roof garden at the Young hotel, the Seaside hotel, the Moana hotel, the Union Grill, L. Chong's chop suei house, Mochizuki Club and others now selling liquor until 1 a. m., except Sundays, will be materially affected.

"Anyone should have enough liquor by 11:30 for the remainder of the night," says Paty, "and there is no legitimate reason why the cafes and restaurants should have this special privilege of selling for an hour and a half longer."

Paty wasn't so sure that any objection would be made against these cafes and restaurants selling liquor with meals, as they now do, on Sundays.

What the action of the commission will be upon these two important matters Paty was not prepared to say as they have not been discussed by him with anyone outside the Anti-Saloon League circles.

The commission will consider 55 applications for annual renewal of liquor licenses for wholesale, saloon, hotel and restaurant privileges, including those objections of Paty.

It is rumored that there will be an objection to the renewal of the Banzai saloon license on Hotel street near Maunaloa on an allegation that the protested proprietors really do not own the saloon. This is the only objection which has come to the attention of Liquor Inspector W. P. Fenell and he was not sure it would be voiced.

The firms of Paddy Ryan, McTighe & Co., Sumida & Co. and Gonzales & Co. are charged with selling "type" liquors. The commission has already heard the cases in part and will probably continue them today. It is understood that the firms erred from misunderstanding or ignorance of the law.

POLICE COURT NOTES

Jim Collins will be heard tomorrow on an accusation of running his auto when he was under the influence of liquor.

Due to the illness of Attorney Straus, the case of Mrs. Gonvalves and A. Gonvalves have been set for next Tuesday.

Hole, a Hawaiian in custody of the federal court, was discharged from Judge Monsarrat's court, where he was arraigned for assault.

The case of Tom Sharp, accused of assault, was stricken from the police court calendar this morning when the complaining witness did not appear.

It took two officers to take William Carey to jail, according to the prosecution in Judge Monsarrat's court this morning. Carey was given a suspended sentence for drunkenness, upon statement of Attorney Chillingworth that Carey was a hard worker and had gone "on the wagon."

The culmination of trouble between the Kakalia and Wiederholt families in Moanalua Sunday came in police court this morning when Judge Monsarrat found John Kakalia guilty of assault on A. H. Wiederholt and fined him $25; discharged David Kakalia, the father, and ordered the charges against Mrs. Keawe and Mrs. Numela Kakalia dismissed.

Russia will commandeer all shipments of nitrate of soda received at Vladivostok.

The Secret service issued a warning against a counterfeit of the five dollar note of the San Francisco federal reserve bank which has appeared on the Pacific Coast.
